WASHINGTON ITEMS .-- A fire involving the destruction of four buildings occurred between two and three o'clock on Saturday morning on L street north, between 11th Intercessory Prayer, its duties and effects, by story frame of Mr. C. F. Richardson, and G. W. Mylne, 25c. by Miss Lewell, author of "Amy Herbert," 38c. and 12th streets. It commenced in the two spread with such rapidity as quickly to envelop the adjoining house, also the property of Mr. Richardson, and two others yet further on, owned respectively by Mr. J. W. Nairn and Mr. Dodson. The whole property destroyed was valued at about $7,000, of which less than $4,000 will be covered by insurance. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is successfully resuming its annual business after the winter's suspension. Several cargoes of grain and country produce have arrived, and such coal boats as were cut off in their passage down by the formation of ice. There would seem to be nothing to prevent an unexampled coal trade during the coming season.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated vesterday evening by a dinner at the Exchange

THROWN FROM HIS HORSE,-On Sunday night, about eleven o'clock, Mr. Mathias McClune, overseer on the farm of P. H. Hooff, esq., was thrown from his horse near the toll-gate on the Washington and Alexandria turnpike, as he was returning from Washington. He was picked up in an insensible condition, and kindly taken care of Ly the persons at the toll-gate until two gentlemen of this city who had been visiting in the country, came by and proffered the use of their buggy to convey him to the town. Dr. Maguire, who was immediately sent for, rendered the necessary medical assistance, and on yesterday morning, the injured man, was, we are glad to state, in a fair way towards a speedy recovery.

A RUN OFF .- The horses attached to a wagon belonging to Young & Hunt, while standing, yesterday morning, at the corner of Duke and Patrick streets, became frightened, and started off at a rapid gait down Duke to Columbus, in attempting to turn up which, the wagon came in contact with the gas post; the post was knocked down, the Marion Leslie, or the Light at Home, with an wagon broken, and one of the horses, by introduction by Rev. [COMMUNICATED. LINES.

Alas! that the Star Spangled Banner should fall, And trail its bright folds in the dust— And madmen should seek, in their rage to enthrall The Freemen who made it their trust.

Virginia, thou home of the free and the brave! Arise from thy lethargic sleep, -Employ all thy power thy country to save, That we may our liberties keep.

Oh! think how our sires for that emblem once strove, Through fire and smoke to their death;

Resolved that no son of those heroes shall prove Recreant while yet they have breath. Arise, and rebuke the foul demon discord,

Then peace and safety will be your reward, And national love evermore. E. H. MAY.

And thrust him away from our shore,

Alexandria, March 15th, 1861. ARKANSAS.-The Van Buren (Arkansas) Press is quite indignant at the seizure of the United States arsenal at Little Rock, and says: The act will meet, as it merits, the unqualified condemnation of every decent man in the State, whether Secessionist or Unionist. Contrasting strangely with the feeling or the conduct of that lawless band in the lower part of this State, is the sentiment of our people here in reference to the occupants of the garrison within five miles of this place. We look upon them as our defenders and friends, and the people of Crawford and Sebastian counties, will turn out en masse to resist any attempt on the part of any people to dislodge them from their appropriate quarters, so long as Arkansas remains in the Union. THE LOST SLOOP-OF-WAR LEVANT .- The almost certainty now that the U.S. sloop-ofwar Levant has been lost in the Pacific gives a melancholy interest to the following paragraph-foreshadowing her fate, as it werefrom one of Mr Russell's letters from Malta to the London Times, in 1854:

"We subsequently visited the United States corvett Levant, lying near, and were received with great kindness by the officers. She is a 'box of guns,' and would be a dangerous and crank craft in bad weather, owing to the size of her masts and spars, and the weight of her armament, &c. I do not propose to comment on this, but simply to suggest that a vessel of war should be something more than a 'box of guns,' at least for those whose home is on board.' Loss of Citizenship .-- An ordinance has been presented by Mr. Hood, of Randolph, requiring all the citizens of Georgia (except those connected with the postal service) who This Omnibus was ordered by Mr. R.
